About Don Bosco College

The Salesians of Don Bosco (SDB) constitute an international religious congregation founded by St. John Bosco (1815–1888), popularly known as Don Bosco. A Catholic priest of nineteenth-century Italy, Don Bosco is revered worldwide today as the Father and Friend of Youth, especially of those who are marginalized by poverty, neglect, and social disadvantage. His life and mission were devoted to addressing the social, economic, and moral challenges faced by young people in a rapidly globalizing world.

With a global strength of nearly 18,000 members, the Salesians are present in 132 countries across all five continents, actively engaged in diverse missions. Their work is rooted in inspiring, empowering, and transforming young minds—in short, educating the youth to become responsible agents of social change. The Salesians remain steadfastly committed to youth development as a means of societal transformation and nation-building.

In India alone, the Salesians manage over 1,000 institutions, with nearly 100 institutions in Tamil Nadu, encompassing schools, colleges, technical institutes, youth centres, and various social outreach programmes. Salesian educational institutions are widely acclaimed for nurturing moral values, academic excellence, sportsmanship, cultural sensibilities, and holistic development of the mind and body, thereby shaping well-rounded individuals prepared to serve society.
